South Carolina has had three governors inside of a week.

Col. W. P. Walton's new paper, The Lexingtonian, will appear next Saturday.

Another presidential precedent was broken when the Cabinet met for a night session at the White House.

Kenton, Tenn., has a curfew law that requires all boys under 15 years to stay in doors after 8 o'clock at night.

Great Britain has made a vigorous protest against Carranza's embargo on the Tampico oil fields. A large part of England's naval fuel is obtained from the Mexican fields.

Gen. Stoessel, defender of Port Arthur, died at Petrograd Sunday, aged 67 years. He was sentenced to death for surrendering the fort, but was pardoned by the Czar.

Gov. O'Neal declined to act on the Alabama state wide prohibition bill passed Saturday, but left it in the executive desk for Gov. Henderson, who assumes office to-day, to pass upon.

Florida led all the states in railroad construction last year, with 220 miles. The total mileage in the U. S. was 1,531, about half what it was in 1913. Canada beat us with 1,978 miles.

The State Board of Health at its annual meeting re-elected Dr. W. L. Heizer and Dr. Lillian South, State Registrar of Vital Statistics and State Bacteriologist, respectively, for four years each.

It is announced from Paducah that a local detective has been employed to hunt Ballard county night riders. As soon as he can secure a brass band and a megaphone announcer to herald his approach, he will be ready for the man hunt.

The French deny the German claim of a great victory at Soissons. They say only three brigades of French were engaged, that the retreat was to avoid being cut off from reinforcements by a rising river and that they still cover the town from the opposite bank.

Roy Wilhoit, of Louisville, and Joe Bosworth, of Middlesboro, Republican leaders, exchanged blows in the lobby of the Seelbach the other night. After Bosworth returned home Wilhoit telegraphed an apology which was accepted by wire and peace reigns.

The King of Italy has challenged the admiration of the world by declaring that Italy can take care of her own stricken people. He does not say so, but he evidently realizes that the rest of the world has its hands full extending charity to the victims of man's inhumanity to man.

John D. Rockefeller's $1,000,000 to fight hookworm has been spent all right. The doctors claim to have examined 220,191 people in Kentucky and that 69,685 of them had hookworm. Regret is expressed that John D.'s money has given out for examination expenses and that there is nothing left for treatment.

ITALY'S EARTHQUAKE.

Detailed reports received in Rome regarding Italy's earthquake increase the appalling list of dead and the enormous property loss. The number of dead and injured in the Abruzzi alone is 30,000, while the number of bodies under the debris at Avezzano is 12,000. From the ruins of the latter place eighteen persons were taken out Saturday, still alive after three days had elapsed. Tremors have not ceased at Sora, where cold rains have added to the suffering.

MR. BIBLE ENTERTAINS

In Compliment to Hon. Lawrence B. Finn, Railroad Commissioner.

DUTCH LUNCH WAS SERVED

To The Twenty Odd Guests Who Were On Hand At His Rooms.

Hon. John Franklin Bible gave a delightful musical reception at his rooms in the Model Laundry apartment house Saturday evening, complimentary to Hon. Lawrence B. Finn, Railroad Commissioner, who was Mr. Bible's guest for the week end. About 20 prominent citizens and musicians were present and the evening was delightfully spent in the living rooms of Mr. Bible and Fritz Fallenstein, which open into each other.

J. F. BIBLE.

Young Mr. Stadelman and Mr. Fallenstein rendered some fine German music and a number of classical selections on their violins. Later T. E. Bartley with violin and S. E. Yancey with guitar gave several tunes of old-time fiddlers' music. Mr. Finn, who is something of a fiddler himself, also took part in the fiddling and the two German musicians tried to help as best they could. After an hour of music a three course Dutch lunch was served on tables placed about the rooms. It consisted of grape fruit; toast sandwiches of turkey, jelly and bacon; coffee and cigars. After this delightful repast was disposed of and cigars lighted, Mr. Bible called upon Mr. Geo. E. Gary, who extended a gracious welcome to Mr. Finn, the guest of honor, and told him how much the people of Hopkinsville thought of him and how anxious they were to do anything they were called upon to do to further his interests and promote his welfare and pleasure.

Mr. Finn replied in a graceful speech of characteristic modesty, saying that he had not come to Hopkinsville expecting to be so highly honored, but that he felt flattered by the courtesies shown to him by friends whom he highly esteemed. He asked that no "shop talk" be indulged in or any political questions brought up, but that the music be resumed. Taking his violin he rendered several solos, in one of which he whistled an imitation flute accompaniment, showing that he is just as good a fiddler as he is a lawyer or railroad commissioner.

The smoker lasted until well past eleven o'clock, with much stirring music by the various performers present and all went away grateful to the host for a most pleasant evening.

Those on hand were Hon. Lawrence B. Finn, M. C. Forbes, Geo. E. Gary, M. L. Elb, Mayor F. K. Yost, A. B. Coffey, Joe McCarroll, Jr., Frank Rives, S. E. Yancey, T. E. Bartley, Fritz Fallenstein, Mr. Stadelman, R. T. Stowe, R. E. Cooper, L. H. Davis, J. W. Knight, Chas. M. Meacham, Nick Dumas, T. C. Underwood, Mr. Bible and Miss Mary Bible.

GUTIERREZ QUILTS VILLA

Gen. Garza Chosen for President by National Convention at Mexico City.

DECLARES MARTIAL LAW.

Assembly Declares Itself Supreme and Assumes All Powers of Government.

Mexico City, Jan. 18.—General Roque Gonzales Garza was named provisional president of Mexico last night by the national convention here. The former provisional president, General Eulalio Gutierrez, together with Generals Blanco, Robles and Jose Vasconcelos, left Mexico City at 4 o'clock this morning for Pachuco.

Martial law has been declared by General Garza. The city is being patrolled by mounted police.

In electing, Garza, the convention declared itself supreme and until a new president is elected has assumed all legislative, executive and judicial powers.

The general belief is that he has been chosen temporarily to meet an emergency created by sudden departure of General Gutierrez from Mexico City. It is thought he would exercise executive power until a complete agreement is secured on a president to fill the unexpired term of President Diaz and Madero, which would end on December 31 of this year.

The reasons for Gutierrez's departure are unknown but it is thought he declined to be continued in office under the restrictions suggested by Zapata followers. These provided that two-thirds of the convention could remove the provisional president; that he take no action of importance without consent of his cabinet, and that the convention must be consulted on all important questions.

Garza is about 36 years old and is a man of culture. He is a graduate of the law school in Mexico City and has been practicing law for many years. He first came into prominence as a volunteer colonel in the Madero army which overthrew Diaz. His brother, Frederico Gonzalez Garza, was for several months governor of the federal district in Mexico City under Madero, Roque and his brother joined Villa soon after Huerta came into power.

At the Aguascalientes convention, which named Gutierrez president, Garza was floor leader of the Villa faction. His ability as an orator made him a conspicuous figure and his dramatic speech in favor of the plan of Ayala led to the coalition between Zapata and Villa forces.

Senator James' Father.

The Hon. L. H. James, of this city, father of U. S. Senator O. M. James, who has been at the hospital in Louisville for several weeks under treatment for rheumatism and optic troubles, is now somewhat improved and is able to leave the sanitarium and go to the home of his son, U. S. Marshal E. H. James, and hopes if the weather keeps going to return home soon.—Crittenden-Press.

A Sweetly Solemn Thought.

How dear to our hearts is the steady subscriber Who pays in advance at the birth of each year. Who lays down the money and does it quite gladly, And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer. He never says: "Stop it; I cannot afford it, I'm getting more papers than now I can read." But always says: "Send it, our people all like it, In fact, we all think it a help and a need." How welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum, How it makes our pulse throb; how it makes our heart dance, We outwardly thank him; we inwardly bless him— The steady subscriber who pays in advance.

STORK VISITS WHITE HOUSE

Sturdy Six and One-half Pound Boy Born to Mrs. F. B. Sayre on Sunday.

PRESIDENT IS OVERJOYED

Name Not Selected, But Little Stranger Will Probably Be Named for President.

Washington, Jan. 18.—A son was born at the White House yesterday to Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, President Wilson's daughter.

The boy weighed six and a half pounds.

President Wilson made no effort to conceal his joy when informed that the child was a boy and that Mrs. Sayre was doing well. His face wreathed in smiles. The baby is his first grandchild and the first boy in his direct family.

Ten other children—six girls and four boys—have been born at the White House, most of them grandsons or granddaughters of Presidents.

Esther Cleveland was the only child of a President ever born in the White House.

Mr. Sayre, who is assistant to President Garfield of Williams College, was not at the White House when his son was born. Dr. Grayson reached him by telephone at Williamstown, Mass., and he arrived here late last night.

COUNCIL MEETING

Action Taken In Regard To The Wilgus Bequest Friday Night.

The Council met Friday night in regular session.

Mayor Yost submitted his annual message reviewing the last year's work.

Mayor Yost and Councilmen Russell and Southall were appointed a committee to act with Geo. C. Long, administrator, in carrying out the will of the late W. A. Wilgus.

Two thousand dollars of the refunded railroad bonds of 1901 were paid, leaving only $2,500 more outstanding.

The bonds of the police officers were presented and approved.

Hopkinsville Like London.

Not even the oldest inhabitant remembers such a dense fog in this region as the one that settled like a blanket on Hopkinsville Thursday night. It began to appear early in the evening and by 10 o'clock was so heavy down town that it obscured the street lights and rivaled the fogs of London.

Another Snow.

Two inches of snow Sunday night followed a most beautiful winter day. It came as a complete surprise, and yesterday was increased to 5 or 6 inches.

SNOWSTORM IN FRANCE

Hinders Military Operations Once More, But French Advance Continues.

RUSSIANS MAKE GAINS EAST.

Germans Say French Lost 20,000 Men In Recent Battle of Soissons.

London, Jan. 18.—While the main Russian army has been busy repelling what Grand Duke Nicholas in his official report describes as a series of violent attacks by Field Marshal von Hindenburg to break his way through to Warsaw, other Russian forces have stormed and taken Kirlibaba pass on the borders of Transylvania, and have made further progress in their advance along the right bank of the Vistula toward the German frontier.

The Germans in force have delivered seven successive attacks, which developed desperate bayonet fighting, on the Russian lines on the left bank of the Vistula, and have succeeded in taking one of the Russian advance trenches.

Further south there have been similar attacks, in each case preceded by heavy artillery engagements. The Russians have succeeded in silencing the heavy Austrian guns, which from the banks of the Duna-jec have been bombarding the town of Tarnow.

The capture of Kirlibaba pass, through which roads lead into the heart of Transylvania, is likely to have a political as well as a military effect. It possibly will hasten the action of Rumania and compel the German allies to send troops to defend eastern Hungary.

In the west there has been brisk fighting at many points. The French claim further progress along the coast of Flanders, but not to the extent indicated by the unofficial reports. Attacks and counter-attacks have prevailed in the region of Arras and in the Aisne valley, south of Laon, but apparently without either side making any important gains.

The French progress at Rheims and in the Vosges, however, continues despite a heavy snowstorm, according to official claims. In the Argonne the Germans claim to have improved their position. An official German statement estimates the allies' losses since they commenced their offensive four weeks ago at 50,000, including 20,000 killed and more than 17,000 prisoners. An interesting account from German sources of the battle north of Soissons says the French defeat was the result of a surprise attack. While the French expected an attack on their left the Germans attacked on the right and center and drove the French completely out of positions north of the Aisne which it had taken them a month to capture.

MINUS A WATCH

Thief Secures Time-piece From Merchant.

Last Friday evening about dark two strange negro men entered the store of Mr. W. B. Pace, corner Nineteenth and High street, and while one of the men engaged Mr. Pace in a conversation about the purchase of a dime's worth of meat, the other one stole a watch from a jewelry case and disappeared. His partner soon left the building and it was after both men were out of sight that Mr. Pace discovered the loss of the time-piece, which was worth ten or fifteen dollars.

STANLEY'S HAT IN THE RING

Fires a Broadside Into His Ancient Enemies and The Frankfort Ring.

MAKE VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

Woods Will Be Full of Candidates For Governor With Stanley Against The Field.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 18.—In a Washington interview Congressman A. O. Stanley formally announced his candidacy for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. He fires several broadsides at his political enemies and at persons he terms the enemies of Kentucky.

He lays special stress on the statement that Kentucky is boss-ridden and declares the people have reached that state of mind where they intend to rise up and strike off the shackles. General Percy Haly and Sam Shackelford, well-known Beckham supporters, are singled out for attack. Stanley bluntly charges that lobbying of these two men has been responsible for the enactment of legislation detrimental to the many people of the commonwealth and in the interest of the few.

Another broadside is directed against what he terms a public office trust, which he charges has sprung up in the last few years. He says that a few men, in the recent campaigns, have controlled the party's machinery and dictated nominations at will. Rotation in office of a favored few has become all but perpetual and he intends to do his utmost to break up the "ring."

Stanley's friends assert he intends to make the vigorous campaign of his career.

Other announced candidates for the democratic nomination in the governor's race include the following: Lieut. E. J. McDermott, Louisville. Henry M. Bosworth, state auditor, Frankfort; J. W. Newman, commissioner of agriculture, Versailles. H. H. Cherry, Bowling Green; and Judge J. H. Hazelrigg, Frankfort. Gossip has it that Attorney-general James Garnett of Columbia intends to announce for the nomination and that Percy Haly may also be a contender. Haly is the "dark horse," so much discussed.

On the Republican side of the fence Edward Morrow, of Somerset, nephew of the late United States Senator W. O. Bradley, is the most talked of man for the nomination. He may get the prize without opposition. The "Bull Moosers" appear to have vanished as a party and there is little likelihood of their putting up a fight for primary honors. The most of them scorn the invitation to return to the republican fold and intend to line-up with the democrats.

MRS. LOUISE EVITTS

Passed Away After Illness of Several Months.

Mrs. Louise Evitts, wife of Mr. Thomas D. Evitts, died at 3:20 o'clock Saturday morning at her home on Third street.

Death was caused by tuberculosis, from which she had been a sufferer for several months.

Mrs. Evitts was a member of the Baptist church. Her husband and four children survive.

The interment took place in the McCord burying ground, a few miles north of the city, yesterday. Rev. W. R. Goodman held services at the grave.

Acquitted by Jury.

The case of Stanley Duke, charged with sale of liquor without license, was tried by a jury in County Court yesterday and a verdict of not guilty rendered.

The Kentuckian today presents to its readers the card of Prof. H. H.
 Cherry, of Bowling Green, formally entering the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. His platform of principles is sure to prove popular with the people. His position on the questions that threaten dissension in the party is conservative and sensible. No candidate representing the extreme ideas of one faction can hope to win and the people must be looking around for leaders who have sound views of their own and who are not mere politicians, obeying the dictates of a machine whose platform is "anything to get office." Prof. Cherry is a comparatively new man in state politics, but he has long ranked as one of the great educators of Kentucky and he has the brains and

CHERRY SEEKS GOVERNORSHIPEducator to Be Candidate at Democratic Primaries.

Worked His Way Through School and After Years of Struggling With Unsympathetic World Was Made
 Head of Western Kentucky State Normal School.

H. H. Cherry, the noted educator of Bowling Green, has announced his candidacy for governor of Kentucky, subject to the Democratic primary Aug. 7, 1915.

He was born in a log cabin, among the sand hills of northwestern Warren county, Kentucky, forty-eight years ago.
 He worked on his father's little ridge farm and attended school from six to eight weeks each year and learned by the time he was twenty-one years of age to read, write and cipher a little. When he became of age his father gave him the privilege of cutting down some hickory trees and splitting them into ax handle timber and hauling it with a yoke of oxen to Bowling Green, a distance of nine miles, over an almost impassable road. After seven months of hard labor he managed to accumulate $72. This was his first real business experience. With the $72 he started on foot through snow twelve inches deep to his native city to enter school. For more than five years he worked his way through school and during much of the time did self boarding. He cooked his meals on a one-eyed

DR. H. H. CHERRY,
 President Western Kentucky State Normal School, Bowling Green, Ky.

kerosene stove and in this way, boarded himself for less than $5 per month. This training and experience prepared him for other duties, broadened his sympathies and created within him a desire to assist the struggling boys and girls to secure an education and to become trained workers for a greater Kentucky.
 He chartered and organized a private school in Bowling Green in 1892 and commenced without buildings and without money. Notwithstanding the low rates of tuition and board, which were put within the reach of the poor boys and girls, and one of the worst financial panics ever known in this country, the school grew from three small rooms to a magnificent educational plant and from twenty-eight students enrolled during the first six months of its existence to an annual enrollment of more than one thousand.
 Without a dollar of endowment the institution met its obligations punctually and became a noted educational and business success. This long executive experience trained him in modern business methods and gave him a larger knowledge of the needs of the state.

When the state normal schools were established Dr. Cherry was unanimously elected president of the Western Kentucky State Normal school without having made application for the position. It required a vast amount of constructive work to organize the new institution and develop it upon a good business basis and upon the educational needs of the state.
 It required not only a knowledge of the educational problems, but executive ability. The state normal school was opened nine years ago, but notwithstanding this short period it enrolled last year seventeen hundred and nine different student-teachers, who are now largely engaged in teaching the boys and the girls in the rural schools of Kentucky. The process committee, appointed by the last general assembly in speaker of the work of the Western Normal, over which Dr.
 Cherry presided, said in part: "We find nothing about this institution to criticize but a very great deal to commend; and we would suggest that if all of the institutions of Kentucky, receiving state aid would, with the same regard for economy and efficiency, discharge their respective duties to the commonwealth of Kentucky, at all times bearing in mind that the taxpayers of the state are to be given due consideration there would not be any occasion for a committee of this kind to investigate state institutions to which appropriations have been made or may hereafter be made."

Hon. Sherman Goodpaster, the state inspector, in his written report submitted to the governor last April, made the following statement: "President Cherry is possessed of a remarkable executive ability, the results of which are evident in one of the greatest educational institutions of the south."

 Dr. Cherry has been an active worker in all endeavors looking toward the development of a "Greater Kentucky."
 This has been his aim in the past and will be in the future. He was president of the Kentucky Educational association, a member of the educational campaign commission of 1905, a member of the literacy commission, a member of the board of directors of the Southern Educational association, chairman of the state-wide farmers' chautauque organization, and a member of many other progressive educational and industrial organizations organized in the interest of a greater state.

Owing to the many exacting executive duties Dr. Cherry has been unable to find time to do any teaching during the past twelve years. Practically all his life has been devoted to an executive work. It is a source of great pride to him that he has made a business success in the county in which he was born and reared, without a single blot on his record, and the people all love and respect him. He is perfectly willing for the people of his native county to say whether he is qualified for the high honor he seeks.

Dr. Cherry in making his formal announcement said in part: "If I am elected governor, I shall be free from all entanglements and not an appointee or slave of any faction, organization or machine. I would rather preserve my integrity, die a pauper, and go down in defeat than make a single promise that would cripple public efficiency or destroy my usefulness while in office. My motive for entering this race is higher than the holding of office, the drawing of a salary or being a dummy governor. If I am elected I shall, on entering office, be free as the 'mountain air' free to fight for the rights of the people and free to take the executive initiative in the work of transacting public business. I shall do my utmost to make the campaign, which I shall earnestly prosecute, a patriotic cause, a vision of a greater Kentucky;
 and I shall try to appeal to the intelligence and higher motives of men rather than to their prejudice and ignorance."

The meanest man in the world broke into Herman J. Boecklins' house, in Kent, Westchester, county, N. Y.
 He stole two watches, a diamond ring, silverware, bric-a-brac, and $18 which he found under a mattress. He also took the family revolver. But to show what he was capable of he proceeded as follows: He took a piece of soap and greased fourteen-month-old Helen Boecklins' finger, slipping off her little gold ring. He cut a gold chain and locket from her neck. He smashed her toy bank and took $4.63.
 Lest Helen should cry, he took her out of her crib while he stole her jewelry. Then he went away, leaving her on the floor. Her cries brought neighbors, who discovered the burglary.

Rats Great Disease Carriers.

Three different animals are plague carriers—the tarbagon or marmot (a rodent) of the trans-Balkal region, roughly embracing great sections of Siberia; the ground squirrel of California; the wild rat of Africa. The greatest mischief is done by rats that get into ships and then go ashore at the ports of call. The rats are bitten by fleas and the fleas in turn bite man.
 Rats also are carriers of leprosy, and it is thought that they may fall victims of cancer, both of which they can transmit to man.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK, EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The year 1914 has been the most extraordinary in the history of modern times. It has witnessed the outbreak of the great European war, a struggle so titanic that it makes all others look small.

You live in momentous times, and you should not miss any of the tremendous events that are occurring. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World. Moreover, a year's subscription to it will take you far into our next Presidential campaign.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

UNRAVEL ROAD LEGISLATION

Joint Committee Working to Bring About Simplicity, Efficiency and Uniformity of Laws.

To bring about revision of state-road laws along lines that will insure simplicity, efficient management, and, where desirable, uniformity, is the task undertaken by a special joint committee appointed at the third American road congress and representing the American Bar association and the American Highway association. The magnitude, intricacy and political and technical difficulties of the undertaking are discussed in an article prepared for the Engineering Record by J. E. Pennybacker, chief of the division of road economics of the United States office of public roads.

Between three and four million words comprise existing road legislation in the several states, according to the estimate of officials in the office of public roads. This great wilderness of words would make up an edition of 30 fair-sized volumes. In view of the comparative simplicity of the subject, this vast accumulation of statutes, according to Mr. Pennybacker, is a scathing commentary on the constructive statesmanship of our legislators for many generations. There is scarcely a doubt that at least 85 per cent of the legislation is superfluous, and that, entirely aside from the matter of reform, exactly the same purposes contemplated in the existing legislation could be accomplished with greater effectiveness with one-eighth of the existing statute laws.

The compilers have found legislation still in effect almost identical as to form and substance with the old colonial road laws, which were in turn based upon English precedent, extending back to the time of Queen Elizabeth; they have found statutes so hopelessly in conflict as to make efficient and responsible administration utterly impossible. As an example of the bewildering confusion of existing legislation, the compilers came across in the statutes of one of our most progressive states a recent enactment amending a road law which was repealed two years before the amendment was passed, and yet apparently none of the legislators have thus far become acquainted with the situation.

MAKING ROADS IN THE FALL

Every Township Should Own Gravel Pits From Which Material Can Be Cheaply Obtained.

There is a growing demand for more and better roadmaking during the autumn months. In many localities the roads become filled with deep ruts and the wheel tracks so depressed during the summer that they collect rains which soon wash them into gutters and ruin the roads for heavy loads and comfortable travel.

There is no reason why a portion of the road tax should not be used for putting the highways in a better condition for travel. The split-log drag and other roadmaking implements should be put to work before the ground freezes. The outside of the roads should be brought into the center of the track, which will establish a crust that will shed water, rather than retain rains, which are sure to occur during the late fall and early spring months.

Roads having a full high center are quite sure to remain in a good condition during the rainy season of fall and spring. Steep hills, where water is apt to collect in wheel tracks, should be provided with open gutters on each side into which rains may be diverted, with an occasional crest which a car cannot pass. Approaches to bridge and culverts should be so filled with earth that vehicles of all kinds may pass over them without serious jolts and jars. Roads are much improved when covered with gravel. This is a season of the year when such work can be accomplished at a minimum expense.

Every township should own gravel pits, from which roadmaking material can be cheaply obtained. Concrete roads will soon become popular. The same material should be used in making bridges and culverts. A good quality of sand and gravel is necessary to make serviceable concrete. Every farmer should have an especial interest in all roads joining his place and leading to market.

Give Meat to Pullets.

Give considerable meat food to the growing pullets now and they will lay earlier on account of it. Commercial prepared beef scraps, or cut fresh bone, will be satisfactory for this purpose, and skim milk will be of great assistance.

Easy to Improve Tomato.

It would not be easy to find a fruit that can be more rapidly improved by careful selection or run out more rapidly by careless handling than the tomato.

RATE INCREASE NECESSARY

FARMERS' UNION OFFICIALS
THINK RAILROADS ARE ENTITLED TO MORE REVENUE.

Products of Plow and Farmer Who Lives at Home Should Be Exempt From Increase.

By Peter Radford,
Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The recent action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in granting an increase in freight rates in the eastern classification of territory; the application of the roads to state and interstate commissions for an increase in rates, and the utterances of President Wilson on the subject bring the farmers of this nation face to face with the problem of an increase in freight rates. It is the policy of the Farmers' Union to meet the issues affecting the welfare of the farmers squarely and we will do so in this instance.

The transportation facilities of the United States are inadequate to effectively meet the demands of commerce and particularly in the South and West additional railway mileage is needed to accommodate the movement of farm products. If in the wisdom of our Railroad Commissions an increase in freight rates is necessary to bring about an improvement in our transportation service, and an extension of our mileage, then an increase should be granted, and the farmer is willing to share such proportion of the increase as justly belongs to him, but we have some suggestions to make as to the manner in which this increase shall be levied.

Rates Follow Lines of Least Resistance.

The freight rates of the nation have been built up along lines of least resistance. The merchant, the manufacturer, the miner, the miller, the lumberman and the cattleman have had their traffic bureaus thoroughly organized and in many instances they have pursued the railroad without mercy and with the power of organized tonnage they have hammered the life out of the rates and with unrestrained greed they have eaten the vitals out of our transportation system and since we have had railroad commissions, these interests, with skill and cunning, are represented at every hearing in which their business is involved.

The farmer is seldom represented at rate hearings, as his organizations have never had the finances to employ counsel to develop his side of the case and, as a result, the products of the plow bear an unequal burden of the freight expense. A glance at the freight tariffs abundantly proves this assertion. Cotton, the leading agricultural product of the South, already bears the highest freight rate of any necessary commodity in commerce, and the rate on agricultural products as a whole is out of proportion with that of the products of the factory and the mine.

We offer no schedule of rates, but hope the commission will be able to give the railroad such an increase in rates as is necessary without levying a further toll upon the products of the plow. The instance seems to present an opportunity to the Railroad Commissions to equalize the rates as between agricultural and other classes of freight without disturbing the rates on staple farm products.

What is a Fair Rate?

We do not know what constitutes a basis for rate making and have never heard of anyone who did claim to know much about it, but if the prosperity of the farm is a factor to be considered and the railroad commission concludes that an increase in rates is necessary, we would prefer that it come to us through articles of consumption on their journey from the factory to the farm. We would, for example, prefer that the rate on hogs remain as at present and the rate on meat bear the increase, for any farmer can then avoid the burden by raising his own meat; and a farmer who will not try to raise his own meat ought to be penalized. We think the rate on coal and brick can much better bear an increase than the rate on cotton and flour. We would prefer that the rate on plows remain the same, and machinery, pianos and such articles as the poorer farmer cannot hope to possess bear the burden of increase.

The increase in rates should be so arranged that the farmer who lives at home will bear no part of the burden, but let the farmer who boards in other states and countries and who feeds his stock in foreign lands, pay the price of his folly.

Lodgepole pine, one of the principal trees of the Rocky Mountains, makes good wrapping paper and pulp board.

Osage orange wood is a source of dye and can be used to supplement the imported fustic wood, as a permanent yellow for textiles.

News print paper has been made by the forest service laboratory from 24 different woods, and a number compare favorably with standard spruce paper.

The forest service is co-operating with 54 railroads, mining companies, poles companies, and cities in making tests of wooden ties, timbers, poles, piling, and paving blocks which have been given preservative treatments.

Recent sales by the government totaling 126,000,000 feet of sawtimber in the Olympic national forest, in western Washington, mark the opening of this hitherto inaccessible storehouse of timber, estimated to contain a stand of 33 million board feet.

BURGLAR WAS CAUGHT

Had Broken Into L. T. Jenkins' Grocery Sunday Morning Early.

At 2 o'clock a. m., Sunday L. T. Jenkins was aroused by a noise in his grocery store, which adjoins his residence at 18th and Anton streets. Going out to investigate, he found a negro named Sink Brame in the act of removing from a window a sack filled with groceries, including meat, canned goods, pickles and other articles. Mr. Jenkins grappled with the negro and kept him from getting the sack, but he took to his heels and escaped. Sergt. Garland Jones and Officer D. L. Mitchell were in the vicinity and hearing Jenkins' call went to the scene and captured Brame on West 19th street, not far away. When taken his pockets were stuffed with other goods belonging to Mr. Jenkins. He was taken back to the store and Mr. Jenkins recovered all of the goods, except five pounds of sausage Brame had eaten part of. He was taken to the lock-up by the vigilant officers and will be held to the grand jury. Entrance had been effected by removing a glass from a front window, after an unsuccessful attempt had been made to break in at the rear.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Half-year examinations started Thursday and will continue through Friday. The examinations this year have been unusually hard, some of them lasting over three hours. Nearly all the pupils have been "cramming" during the last few weeks to keep from "flunking." A failure in one of the half-yearly examinations nearly always means a failure in the term's work.

Last week Mr. W. A. Long, of the school board, and Chas. S. Jarrett, an alumnus of the High School, visited the school and made inspiring speeches to the student body in the study hall at morning exercise. Several times each year Mr. Long comes up to High School and he always has a word of encouragement for the pupils. His visits are looked forward to with much pleasure, as he is a great favorite among the boys and girls. Mr. Jarrett spoke of the many advantages and opportunities offered by the high school and urged the students to take hold of the opportunities to fit themselves for life.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association Wednesday, Wesley Dalton was elected as manager of the baseball team for the coming season. The high school has brilliant prospects for a fine season in baseball, as not a single man will be lost from last year's team. Mgr. Dalton expects to arrange a full schedule of games with the high school teams of neighboring towns and from present indications it looks as if the school will put out the greatest team it has ever produced. Mr. Dalton was also voted the right to wear an "H" because of his excellent work as manager of the Carnival. Jas. Moss was elected to represent the society in the Athletic meeting held in connection with the Western Kentucky Oratorical Contest.

The Western Kentucky Oratorical Contest will be held in this city on the 19th of February and preparations for it are being already made by the executive committee, which was elected by the two Literary societies. Hopkinsville has been winner of the contest for the past two years and will put up a hard fight for the medal this year. A preliminary contest will be held one week before the Oratorical Contest to select the man to represent the local High School. Some of the most promising speakers in the school are already preparing speeches for the preliminary.

The equipment in the Manual Training Department has been enlarged by the addition of a large planing machine. This will greatly help in the work.

Last week the pictures of the different classes were taken for the Annual. None of the pupils knew beforehand just what day the pictures were going to be taken, so no one had a chance to "primp" or put on his Sunday clothes, but had to have his picture taken as he looks every day.

Modern Miracle.

Fred Simmons, a painter from New York, who was employed painting a 120-foot tank at the Mengel box factory, fell from the top of the tank this afternoon. He was at work when he lost his balance and made the fearful plunge.

Simmons landed on his feet on the roof of a one-story building. When other workmen reached him he asked "What happened?"

He was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found that the bones of both legs were fractured, and he has probably suffered internal injuries. Despit the extent of his injuries he was still conscious and has a chance to recover.—Louisville Post.

GOLF BALL TURNS DOUBLE

Jovial Englishman Confronted With "Two Balls" on Tee When Starting Game.

Golfing stories threaten to become as notorious in their lack of veracity as fishing stories. The truth of the following narrative, which is presently going the round at Moffat, I will not swear to, says the narrator in the Glasgow News. A particularly jovial party visited one of the local hotels one evening recently, saying that they would sample the links on the following day. During the evening they lived sumptuously, looking long upon the wine when it was red. In the morning, feeling rather poorly, they resolved that they would merely walk round the course, and engage in a game in the afternoon. They returned from their promenade feeling rather refreshed, but, after dinner, again partook too heartily of the "barley bree." They, however, sallied out afterwards to engage in the game. The leader of the party had his ball teed for him at the first tee, and was just addressing himself to strike, when suddenly he drew back with a look of utmost consternation on his face. "By Jove!" said he; "I never saw such a thing as this before—stymied on the tee."

"Yes. What do you want? I'm the first to get into the office, but there are 22 others outside. What are our duties to be?"

"Your duties are to sit right here," answered the physician. "My office hours are from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. POPULATION SHIFTING.

There has been a constant and interesting shifting, since the two recent Balkan wars, of the population of the various territories affected. Most of European Turkey having been partitioned among several different Balkan states and new boundaries made, the nationals of the various affected countries hastened—some of their own free will and others through forced circumstances—to shelter within the confines of the newly annexed territory. For instance, the Greeks are migrating from Asia Minor and Thrace into "New Greece," the Turks from what was formerly European Turkey to Constantinople and Asia Minor, and the Bulgars to "New Bulgaria" from contiguous Greek, Turkish or Servian territories.

MADE USE OF UNDERSTUDIES

Both a German Emperor and a Russian Czar Frequently Employed Doubles.

In a land of distrust like Russia it is only natural that the precautions taken should be of the most drastic order, hence the use of the royal understudy who has always been a conspicuous figure at that court. Indeed, it was the understudy of the late Czar Alexander III—a man named Komaroff—who was murdered in Moscow some years ago, when the murderer thought he had covered himself with glory by assassinating the czar.

Nicholas, like his father before him, has an understudy, and the many state functions he is supposed to have attended at the opening of his reign, when the relations with his people were more strained than they are today, really were attended for the most part by proxy.

No monarch, however, made such frequent use of his understudy as the late Emperor William of Germany. Every day as the clock struck twelve the emperor came out and bowed on the palace balcony. It was not until some time after the emperor's demise that the secret was made known that the man who appeared daily on the balcony was the royal understudy. And the person who gave the secret away was the great Bismarck.

WAR HAS SPARED CARUSO

Famous Tenor So Far Exempt, but Always at the Service of His Country.

Caruso's apartment in his New York hotel was filled with flowers on the night of his return from abroad. He seemed glad to be back. He was proud that he had spent 35 days in the Italian army. He is forty-one years old and got exemption papers to come over here.

"If my country needs my arms," said the tenor, standing in the middle of his room, and waving his own, "I am ready."

He said he sang October 19 in Florence for the benefit of refugees and the receipts were 35,000 francs. He added that his voice is all right, but that he has suffered all summer with headaches.

"Too much vacation," he laughed. "I didn't sing in Germany this year and it gave me too much time."

"I spent a lot of my time giving away bread and money," he continued. "The people came in streams to my country estate. On one farm near Florence there are 29 families, with an average of nine children to family."

SELF-ABASEMENT.

"Six months ago I indorsed your note for $50 and had to pay it."

"I hope you won't hold that against me. I've had the worst kind of luck."

"No, I won't hold it against you, but I'm going to carry that note around with me in my pocket and every time I catch myself thinking that I'm a pretty smart fellow I'm going to take it out and look at my signature."

DIDN'T WANT 'EM.

"That beauty expert is a fake."

"Why?"

"Wanted to give some wrinkles on how to look young."

HAD THE TRAINING.

"That orator certainly knows how to work on people's feelings."

"But, you know, he started out as a dentist."

ON THE QUIET.

"Whisper what you like to have. I guess I can get you a drink on the sly."

"Then Mumm's the word."

IT DEPENDS.

"Are the running expenses of your auto much?"

"No; it's the cost for speeding that counts up."

PRACTICE.

"Is Bliggins intoxicated? I never saw him walk like that before."

"He never drinks a drop. There must be a new dance out."

HOME INDUSTRY.

"Were you held up abroad by the war?"

"Oh, no; my wife attends to that experience at home."

Old People Everywhere Say

Peruna is good for Coughs, Colds, Catarrhal Diseases and after effects of the Grip.

MR. W. C. HEMPHILL.

Eighty Years Old.
"I had a great deal of trouble with my bowels and bladder, and pain in my right hip which felt like rheumatism. Weak back. Constipated. Urine highly colored. Many doctors failed. I have taken Peruna and think I am cured. I have gained twenty pounds in weight since I began Peruna." Mr. W. C. Hemphill, Louisville, Miss.

Eighty-four Years Old.
"About fifteen or twenty years ago I was suffering with pains in my back. I could scarcely get about. I got some Peruna and was relieved of the pains ever since."

"I have used Peruna occasionally since and recommended it to others."

When I first knew of Peruna the druggists here did not keep it. Now they all keep it.

"I have lived in this place eighty-four years. I am a farmer. Was born where I live. I have three living children. Should you publish this in the papers it will reach many of my old friends. You can use my picture as you think proper." Mr. G. W. Roberts, R. F. D. 1, Box 36, Pickens, Miss.

Eighty-two Years Old.

"I had a severe attack of grip. I suffered terribly while it lasted. After my attack I sent for Peruna. My wife said I must have a doctor, but I insisted upon taking the Peruna, and made a quick and perfect recovery." Mr. J. R. Prince, R. R. 1, Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Eighty-one Years Old.

"I had nervous prostration. One doctor would say I had catarrh of stomach and bowels, another nervousness, and another enlargement of liver. Nothing seemed to do me much good. I commenced taking Peruna, which built me right up." Mrs. Martha Avery, 23 Graham St., Leominster, Mass.

Seventy-eight Years Old.

"I had catarrh of the head. Commenced taking Peruna and gained eleven pounds. It is a great medicine. A fair trial would convince any one of its efficacy." Mr. F. M. Jeffries, Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

CHARLIE OVERSHINER

Hopkinsville Boy Named As Postmaster at Santa Ana, California.

Charles D. Overshiner, a Hopkinsville boy, who learned the printing business in the Kentuckian office, was on Jan. 8 appointed postmaster at Santa Ana, Cal. The Santa Ana Daily Register has this notice:

"That Overshiner was the choice of the powers that be, has been known for months, and now that the end of the term of the present postmaster, Linn L. Shaw, is about up, no time is to be wasted about getting the new man on to the job."

The appointment by President Wilson will go to the Senate for confirmation. Overshiner will then get official notice and will secure and forward a bond. He will then get his commission. He stated today that he doubted if he would get into the office before March 1. Shaw's term is up on February 15.

Overshiner has been a resident of Santa Ana for thirty-one years, coming here from Kentucky. For many years he was foreman of the Daily Blade. Several years ago he bought a half interest in the Santa Ana Bulletin, a Democratic weekly, and was elected secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee, for which committee he did faithful and efficient work. He received the unanimous endorsement of the committee for the appointment, and had the backing of Congressman Kettner. He had no opposing aspirant."

TWO DEATHS

At Western State Hospital Last Week.

William J. Payne, of Henderson, died at the Western State Hospital Saturday morning of cerebral hemorrhage, aged 44 years. He was received at the institution about three months ago. The body was shipped to Henderson for interment.

Philo H. Sanderford, a patient from Daviess county, died Saturday morning of exhaustion from mania, aged 75 years. He had been here three months. The remains were shipped to Owensboro.

SALE OF LIQUOR

MAY CONTINUE.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16. The sale of liquor may continue in Shelbyville until the local option election contest is settled. Chief Justice Miller held that the 1914 amendment of the local option law did not change the effect of appeals from the decisions of the canvassing board and it suspends the effect of the election until the final determination of the appeal.

He held this opinion in dissolving the injunction granted Matthews Hall to restrain the Smith-McKenney company from selling liquor in Shelbyville after the Shelby county local option election.

All the court, excepting Judge Turner, who is absent, concurred.

SCOUTS RATTLER THEORY

New Yorker Upsets Belief That Rattlesnakes Produce a Rattle in Each Year.

"When I was in Orange, Tex., one time," said a New Yorker who travels around a good deal, "somehow the talk at the hotel turned to rattlesnakes; how big they'd get and how big they wouldn't get; what they'd do and what they wouldn't do, the environment of Orange being in no way shy of material for object lessons on the subject. By and by Capt. Ed Davis, the famous South Texas hunter and fisherman, was moved to say:

"I don't believe in the theory that a rattlesnake grows a rattle for every year of his life. I killed a rattler once that wasn't much more than a couple of feet long, and he had 14 rattles. The one that Judge Wingate shot up at Slade's camp only had six."

"Was the judge's snake a pretty good sized one, captain?" said I, for I always want to be shown.

"Oh, fair to middlin' size," replied Captain Ed. "It had a yearlin' fawn in it."

"Exact dimensions after that I didn't think it was necessary to call for."

FARM COMFORTS

Howe—This bard begins his poem with "Only a pallet of straw for me." Wise—H'm! He must have been summering at a country boarding house.

HARDEST ONE TO GET.

Frederick F. Moore, the author, smiled the other evening when the conversation in a Washington club turned to the subject of conundrums. He said he was reminded of a conversation between Pat and Mike.

Pat and Mike were taking a walk through the country one Sunday morning when the former suddenly paused and turned to his companion with a reflective smile.

"Just a minute, Moike," said he. "Kin yez till me why the kissin' av yez gurrel is loike a bottle av olives?"

"Shure, an' Oi kin not!" was the quick response of Mike. "Do yez think that Oi am wan av thim incoy-klapaydias?"

"Bogorra, an' it's an aisy wan, Moike," was the grinfal rejoinder of Pat. "If yez kin git wan the rist come aisy."

A KNOWING WIFE.

"Henry, you've been to the races again."

"What makes you think so, my dear?"

"The baseball season is over now, and except when the home team is defeated nothing makes you come home with a more weebegone expression of countenance than losing two dollars on a horse race."

TO BE SURE.

"I'm rather skeptical about some men who pretend to reform."

"Why not give them the benefit of the doubt? The man who says, 'Pray for me' is usually more in earnest than the man who says, 'Vote for me.'"

DONE PROPERLY.

"How is it you were so long over your work today?" she asked.

"Sure, ma'am," replied the servant, "you were watching me most of the time."—Judge.

PARADOXICAL.

"There is one queer thing about Bibles' tipsy stories."

"What's that?"

"They have so much dry humor."

BUSINESS KIND.

"There goes a man of sterling worth."

"Who is he?"

"He's a silver-smith."

OUR CITIZEN'S DEMAND

Fully Complied With A Hopkinsville Resident Furnished It.

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Hopkinsville people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Hopkinsville and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that Doan's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully:

Mrs. I. P. Duke, 655 O'Neal St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I had pains across my back and sides, as well as other troubles, caused by weak kidneys. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I got a box and used them as directed. They promptly cured me and since then, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as they do just as advertised."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Duke had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Weakfish Erratic.

Weakfish are erratic in temperament and movements. Today they are taken on a certain tide. Tomorrow they will bite on another. You never can tell. Fishing for weakfish, like all game fish, is a gamble. It is not like fishing for bottom feeders. In fishing for bottom feeders, you are always sure, more or less, of results. In fishing for game fish, you may get fish on a day when all the signs are against it, and get them in numbers.

Home-Made Ointment.

The following is a recipe for a simple home-made ointment, which is excellent for applying to cuts and bruises: One teaspoonful each of olive oil, turpentine, spirits of camphor and coal oil. Of course, any amount desired may be made, but the proportion must be as given here.

The day of harsh physics is gone. People want mild, easy laxatives. Doan's Regulets have satisfied thousands. 25c at all drug stores.

ROUTED BY INSECT PESTS

Surveying Parties From United States Ships of War Forced to Take to the Water.

Surveying parties from the United States ship Paducah in the West Indies encounter just one grand round of contentions with cockroaches, stinging scorpions and sand flies. So bad at times is it that the surveying parties are driven into the nearby waters to protect themselves from annihilation.

Writing from aboard the Paducah at Jamaica, Assistant Surgeon E. E. Woodland, U. S. N., said:

"Cockroaches breed on board the ship and barge and seem almost impossible to exterminate in this region. Flies do not bother us, except those coming from barge No. 1 at certain times. Sand flies, which abound on most of the keys along with mosquitoes, make the lives of the tower and camping parties miserable, being so bad at times as to force the men into water for protection."

"The sand fly bite produces an intensely itching papule about one to three days later in addition to the immediate discomfort; the papule lasts about a week, and is often associated with ecchymosis. Oil of citronella and alcohol applied to the face and hands, carefully avoiding the eyes, seems to give the best results toward prevention of the pests. "Scorpions sting the men sometimes while working on the mainland, but the sting does not amount to much more than that of a wasp."

EARLY CHINESE TRADE.

The rapid growth of our early trade with China is shown by the fact that the 37 vessels, carrying, in 1805, nearly five and three-quarters millions' worth of goods to Canton, represented a larger fraction of our total foreign commerce than our trade with the whole of China does today. The silver imported to balance American trade with China averaged more than two and a half millions annually in the 30 years down to 1872, and reached a maximum of seven and a half millions in 1818.—John Foord, in the Youth's Companion.

KILLS BIRD HE ONCE MAIMED

Rancher Who Accidentally Amputated Pheasant's Leg Shoots It a Year Later.

The story of Lord Franklin, who liberated a number of marked birds from his pheasantry in Devonshire, and two years later took one of the birds while on a hunting trip in the north of France, has a counterpart in a story which comes from Cathcart, Snohomish county, vouched for by Robert D. Jones of that place.

While mowing hay last June Abe Bruger, a Cathcart rancher, surprised a mother pheasant and her brood in the tall grass. One of the flock was overtaken by the mower, which amputated both of its legs. It escaped to an alder thicket.

While hunting recently Bruger winged a pheasant. When he recovered the bird both of its legs were missing, a fact which recalled the accident of the early summer. The bird had become full grown, was in perfect condition, plump, and in fact larger than the average of this year's birds taken in the locality.

The wounds had completely healed and nature, in the process of healing, had developed a substitute for claws in the form of hard scales at the extremities.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

GLASS EYES TO BE SCARCE

European War Has Prevented Importation of Requisite Materials Into This Country.

Glass eyes are getting scarcer and higher in price, wholesale dealers say, with no prospect of an increased supply while the war continues. The authorities in the trade say that more than three hundred thousand people in this country wear glass eyes and keep on buying them from time to time, as the eyes usually wear out within a year or two.

New York is the center of the trade in this country. The wholesalers here say that all of their imported eyes are from Germany. The importers also manufacture eyes in New York, but all of the material used in making the eyes comes from Germany. This material includes special qualities of clear and colored glass which are combined in the process of manufacture in order to imitate as closely as possible the appearance of natural eyes.

No shipment of eyes or material for eyes has been received since the war began. The present supply of manufactured eyes, the wholesalers say, will last only a few months.

EXPLAINED.

"I must say," said the man who makes sapient observations, "that the Chinese are mighty quick about catching on to the ways of our higher civilization. They're good sports, too. I saw one with fingernails an inch long."

"Do you think that indicated sympathy with our civilized customs?"

"When a Chinaman makes a freak election bet, not having any whippers worth mentioning, he has to agree not to cut his fingernails till his party comes into power."

WOLVES TAKE PART IN WAR.

The heavy fighting in Galicia has brought out all the beasts and birds of the Polish forests in wild alarm. Scenting the lakes of blood that cover the battlefields, wolves are out in great packs, and even pursue the victors, whose boots and clothes are crusted with blood after fighting, right to their camps. Often at night a volley has to be fired into the packs to disperse the intruders.

DISCREPANCY.

"I hope your son is giving a good account of himself at college."

"Oh, yes. He gives a very good account of himself, but unfortunately it does not agree with private advices which I have received from the president."

DISTURBING FACTOR.

"Doctor, is that beautiful creature who was in here just now going to give me the anesthetic?"

"Why, yes."

"Then, as a personal favor to me, get a homely nurse to do the job, so I won't mind going to sleep."

THIS HECTIC LIFE.

"Well, I must say that is an appropriate combination."

"To what do you refer?"

"I see a dish-faced girl dancing the kitchen sink."

Dumb Chills and Fever.

Douglasville, Tex.—"Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Miss Edna Rutherford, of Douglasville, "and from that time was taken with dumb chills and fevers, and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and had four different doctors, but got no relief, so I began to take Cardui. Now I feel better than in many months." Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That's the secret of its 50 years of success. As a tonic there is nothing in the drug store like it. As a remedy for women's ills, it has no equal. Try it. HOSPITALITY THAT IS REAL Comparison of the Modern Dinner Party With the Spirit It Vainly Emulates.

It is easy to be hospitable when one has a surplus, but even more delightful to receive the hospitality of those who only have enough. These give you of themselves; the rich often only of their purchases. What they are and what they have, they give freely enough, and they are entirely without that simian and vulgar notion of hospitality that when one entertains one must give not what others are accustomed to, which has made the modern dinner party such an arid thing. Who would not give all the chef-tinkered dishes he has ever eaten to have a chop and a potato and a pipe with Doctor Johnson; or a cigarette with "Chinese" Gordon or Robert Louis Stevenson; or a curry with Clive, or a buckwheat cake and sirup with Lincoln; or a sausage and a glass of beer with Goethe; or a glass of punch with Vasa or Gustavus Adolphus; or to have said "Skaal" over a glass of the plainest vintage with Bjornson and Ibsen; to be put to sit at the same table with those modern vikings, Sven Hedin and Nansen and Amundsen? The Scandinavian, the democrat of the most ancient lineage in the world, seems to know better than almost anyone else what independence means.—Price Collier, in Scribner's Magazine.

WAR REVIVES OLD HYMNS.

An interesting feature of the changes in sentiment brought about in the Hapsburg monarchy by the war is the new popularity acquired by the old Kossuth hymn. Until recently that stirring Magyar song was frowned upon by the authorities as revolutionary; now, with the substitution of the name of Francis Joseph (Ferencz Jozsef) for that of Kossuth Lajos, it has acquired a new meaning and the streets of Budapest resound with its strains, as do the streets of Vienna with Haydn's "Gott erhalte," to the satisfaction of Hungarians and Austrians alike.

COUNTY COMMISSION

Advocated By a Farmer of South Christian.

Jan. 16, 1915.

Mr. Editor: I beg you for a small space in your paper to advocate a change of our Fiscal affairs.

Many cities in the country have adopted the commission form of government as a relief from the old cumbersome form of city management and have found relief.

And if it is good for a city, why not good for a county? Now, Mr. Editor, no form of management is so cumbersome or so easy to graft on the system now used in Kentucky in running county affairs. The magistrate gets but a pittance for his time, the County Judge must stay at the county seat on a salary so small he must engage in some other business to properly care for a family. The road engineer must take on some side lines to live.

No one of them has any independent authority to order work or change an order even when such a change would be to the good of the taxpayer.

Now under the commission form of Fiscal management the responsibility for any thing could be easily fixed and the remedy could be applied at once, thus saving much time and cash. With 3 commissioners, the Fiscal affairs could be run cheaper than now. The County Judge in this county draws $1,500 per year to help manage county affairs. A Road Engineer draws $1,500 per year. A poor commissioner draws $480 per year. We pay a delinquent tax collector's 40 percent on each poll collected that amounts to something like $2,000 per year and the County Assessor gets something over $2,200 per year for assessing the property. This makes about $8,000 paid out by the Fiscal Court and by the state each year, besides some $500 dollars paid the members of the Fiscal Court. By paying each commissioner $500 per year and putting all of the county's Fiscal affairs in their hands, including delinquent tax collection and assessing, several thousand dollars could be saved each year and the men that are really responsible for the condition our county's Fiscal affairs could be found and looked after.

As things are run in old Kentucky the law fixes no one as the real head of the Fiscal court of any county, as it takes all the magistrates of a quorum sitting to do business at all and that is not oftener than one day in a month.

It would take an amendment to the state constitution to take over the assessing job, a thing that is fairly common these days.

HENRY BRYANT'S CHILDREN

May Get About $9,000 As Result of Recent Decision.

If a decision of the Circuit Court at Louisville rendered last Thursday is finally upheld by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, the children of the late Henry H. Bryant, of Trigg county, will receive something like $9,000 under the will of James Guthrie, deceased, who was an uncle of the mother, Mrs. Mary L. Bryant, who died in Clarksville, Tenn., two or three years ago. Mr. Guthrie died in August, 1913. Under a will written many years before his death he divided his property among a number of relatives, Mrs. Bryant being one of the number. At the time the estate consisted principally of lands in Texas, and supposed to be worth about $15,000. The will provided that if the estate should depreciate, each beneficiary under the will should lose in proportion to his bequest under the will, and if the property should increase in value, they should also share proportionately in the increase. Before the death of Mr. Guthrie the property has increased very much and the estate was closed up at more than $80,000. An attorney in the case informed the writer in Louisville a few days ago that the part going to the children of Mrs. Bryant under the recent court decision at Louisville would be something like $9,000. There are five of the Bryant children living. Mrs. Tom Clark resides at Russellville; Laurence Bryant in Nashville; Guthrie and Henry Bryant and a married sister live at Fort Worth, Texas. The amount each will receive under this decision is almost $2,000.—C. d. z. Record.

GARDINER REAPPOINTED TO BOARD OF CONTROL.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—Dr. Thomas W. Gardiner, of Madisonville, Republican, was reappointed to the Board of Control Friday by Gov. McCreary for a term of four years. Dr. Gardiner has been connected with the State hospitals off and on for many years. He received the first patient at the Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, when he was assistant physician. Under Gov. Bradley he was superintendent of the Western Hospital at Hopkinsville, and was reappointed to the position when the bi-partisan board was created. Gov. Willson appointed him a member of the board and his term expired with the beginning of the present year.

Salvation Army.

Local Salvation Army workers conducted Sunday services, morning and evening, in the First Presbyterian church.

Captain Nehemiah Brookes preached from the text "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus," 2nd Philippians, 5th verse. Envoy Vallier made reference to the progress of the Army work since the opening of the local corps.

The discourse for the evening's service was from the book of Nehemiah, 2nd chapter and 2nd verse, "Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick?" There were at intervals recitals of original music and song. The collections at each service were given to aid the work of the Salvation Army in this city.

The Rex

Yona Landowska, the Russian dancer who has created a furor in America, in her dance of "EVE" in "The Garden of Eden" will be the headliner at the REX today. This picture which we understand goes about the limit in the way of dances is said to be something extra good. The picture is entitled "THE BEAUTIFUL UNKNOWN" and tells the story of how a young princess succeeds in captivating a prince by her impersonating a ballet girl and her dance in the Garden of Eden.

The other feature is the "Clutching Hand" series of detective stories. The picture is entitled "THE MYSTERY OF THE VANISHING JEWELS" and features Pearl White as Elaine and Arnold Daly as Craig Kennedy.
